Ms. Woolbridge said her husband has a previous history of leaving their home and that on this occasion Mr. Gonzalez left their home in Arizona on Saturday May 26 without notification. She said Mr. Gonzalez was probably going to visit friends in Nogales, Mexico. Mr. Gonzalez is driving a black 1989 Mazda MPV van with California license plates. On May 27, a friend of Mr. Gonzalez's called Ms. Woolbridge to inform her that Mr. Gonzalez had been arrested in Nogales, Mexico after fighting with a local police officer. The friend told Ms. Woolbridge that Mr. Gonzalez was scheduled to be released after paying a $50 USD fine. On Monday, May 28 Mr. Gonzalez spoke with Ms. Woolbridge via telephone and told her he was scheduled to be released the following day. After not hearing from him again, Ms. Woolbridge contacted Post and provided a photo of Mr. Gonzalez to assist in the search. Ms. Woolbridge could not provide the names or telephone numbers of any of Mr. Gonzalez's friends in Mexico. Post contacted local law enforcement and emergency services with negative results. The Nogales Police Department, specifically, did not have any records of his arrest. A local lookout was entered in the system.
